THE WEATHER.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, Nov. 3, 1915.

The feature of the weather of the last 24 hours was the sharp fall in temperature and the high winds from the lake region eastward to the Atlantic. Precipitation is still lacking in all parts of the country, and temperature remains high for the season, except in the lake region.

The pressure distribution Tuesday night indicates a continuation of fair weather east of the Mississippi for the next three days, with temperatures very near the seasonal average.

Winds for Wednesday and Thursday: The winds along the morth Atlantic coast will be fresh west to northwest; along the middle Atlantic, fresh west, diminishing.

Central Vermont.

The first carloads of a big shipment of North Carolina pine began to pass through this city late on Tuesday on the Central Vermont railroad, bound for Burlington, Vt. The lumber cargo was brought to New London on Tuesday morning on the steamer Aragon of Georgetown, S. C.

As soon as the steamer was docked there, the crew augmented by several hands from the wharf, started the work of unloading the cargo from the boat, as the work is being done by hand. The Aragon's cargo is composed of 1.200,000 feet of North Carolina pine, brought from Georgetown and consigned to Burlington, Vt. The lumber consists of beards three inches wide varying in length from 10 to 15 feet. Each board is one inch in thickness.

The Aragon is of the high bow style, with deckhouses forward and aft, the cargo being stored on deck. The consists of boards three inches wide varying in length from 10 to 15 feet. ### ASKS FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

Suit of Annie E. Bronson Against Joseph Burnham of East Lyme on Trial-Bronson Summer Home Was Crushed by Fall of Tower at Pine Grove, Niantic-Tower Blown Over in Windstorm.

In the November session of the superior court here on Tuesday morning with Judges William A. Bennett of New Haven presiding, the trial was begun in the suit of Mrs. Annie H. Bronson of East Lyme, who claims $5.000 damages from Joseph Burnham and others was started. The case is before a jury. It is brought to recover for damages to Mrs. Bronson's summer home at Pine Grove, which was crushed when the tower known as Burnham's Folly fell upon it in a heavy gale of wind and rain on March 1, 1914.

It is alleged that the defendant had been apprized of the run down condition of the tower, which had been apprized to strengthen the guy wires and make other repairs.

Mrs. Armie E. Bronson, the plaintiff, was the first witness. She said the tower was 125 feet high and 40 feet and make other repairs.

Mrs. Armie E. Bronson, the plaintiff, was the first witness. She said the tower was 125 feet high and 40 feet at the base. She told of its blowing down and falling on her house, destroying it. Later on a fire burned up what was left of the house. There was $2,000 worth of furniture in it. George Goss, treasurer of the Connecticut Spiritualist Camp Meeting association, explained maps of Pine Grove.

Ernest D. Russell, town clerk of East Lyme told of deeds which were recorded at the town clerk's office of property in question in the suit.

Sereno O. Harrington, an aged resident of the grove, testified that he kept a store on the ground floor of the tower and he told of the weakened condition of the tower. On the day it blew down he advised Mrs. Bronson

In view at the location of the submarine base at Thames River Navy Yard it is of interest that the navy department is to require regular submarine escape exercises and drills for the men aboard the submarine boats of the fleet. The purpose of the drills will be to familiarize themselves with the mode of escape from a submarine that it is wrecked.

Department exercises are reported to have worked out a method that will prevent repetition of such disasters as that which overtook the submarine boat F-4 in Hawatian waters. That vessel submerged in maneuvers and never came to the surface again until several months later when the wreck was raised and some of the remains of her crew recovered for burdal at Arlington National cemetery.

The department has perfected a device that provides for an escape chamber in every submarine boat to be built for the American navy. The such metal helmet equipped with an oxygen flask and a flask of potash which will absorb the carbonic acid in the breath exhaled by a man. In case of an accident it is proposed that the crew of the submarine shall don their escape suits and one by one step into the escape chamber. There each man shall in turn operate mechanical contrivances that will let compressed air into the chamber to equalize the pressure of the water outside. When that point is reached a door in the outer wall of the vessel opens and the man steps out. The performance is repeated until all the men are standing on the bottom of the sea. Prizes.

The fourth laying contest at Storre has ended. White Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds were the winners, with White Leghorns in third place. The one thousand birds representing nineteen breeds and halling from fourteen different states and two countries laid a grand total of 151,565 eggs, or an average of 152 eggs per hen as compared with the average of 144 for last year.

Tom Barron, Catforth, England, won first and third prizes with Wyandottes and Laghorns respectively. The former laid 2,072 while the Leghorns averaged about seven eggs less per bird or a total of 2,061 for the pen. Hillview Poultry Farm's Rhode Island Reda from St. Albans, Vt. came in for second place with a yield of 2,039 eggs. Judge F. M. Peasley's Leghorns from Cheshire, Conn., won fourth place for the year with a production of 1,962, and they enjoy the further distinction of making the highest score of any of the 48 pens entered from Connecticut.

The subjoined table indicates the average individual production by breeds as well as the average for all varieties taken together:

The "Marvelous Seymours." Arthur J. Seymour, aged forty-nine years, died suddenly at his home in Norwich. Conn., on Oct. 12. Mr. Sey-mour was the youngest of the Seynour brothers, known for many years on the vaudeville stage as the "Mar-velous Seymours," acrobats and trick jumpers. They traveled with a numjumpers They traveled with a number of organizations throughout America, including Primrose and West's Minstrels and The Black Crook (going with the latter to Mexico). For some time he was with the vaudeville team of Farnum and Seymour, and they are said to have been the first Americans to perform in the London Hippodrome. Mr. Seymour was twice married. His second wife (who for the past few years has appeared with his in vaudeville), a daughter, and two brothers, one of whom, Ovila Seymour, is filling engagements on the Western circuit, survive him. For the last six months Mr. Seymour had suffered much from the effects of an accident which occurred about a year ago which occurred about a year ago while he was performing at the Or-pheum theater in Boston.—Dramatic Mirror.

CURES PIMPLES EASILY

Simple Remedy That Clears Skir Quickly of All Eruptions. Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past The Lee & Osgood Co, have done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Norwich.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly soalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulosers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There is yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or muscous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, The Lee & Osgood Co. will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you can get your money back. You cartainly can afford to try it on this plan.
